SPECTATOR CODE OF CONDUCT

The safety of our hospitality guests and staff is our top priority.

We are committed to ensuring the health and safety of guests, and to provide a safe environment in which to enjoy hospitality.

To help us do this, it is essential that all spectators attending a fixture at Edgbaston behave in a safe and responsible manner while at the stadium. This Spectator Code of Conduct will explain how you can help us and provides guidelines that you must observe. It applies to everyone attending a fixture at Edgbaston. By purchasing a hospitality package, you are agreeing to comply with this Spectator Code of Conduct.

All other Ground Regulations remain in force. If you are attending with other guests, please make sure they have read and understood these guidelines too.

Any break of this Spectator Code of Conduct or Ground Regulations may result in you being removed from the stadium.

Should you come to Edgbaston?

The UK Government had made it clear that we all have a personal responsibility to assess if it is safe for us to attend any event or activity where they might be a risk of exposure to the virus.

By attending a match at Edgbaston, you acknowledge that you will be attending a public event where there is a risk of transmission of COVID-19 and that it is impossible for the venue to completely eliminate the risk of transmission of COVID-19.

If you are not willing to comply with this Spectator Code of Conduct or, based on your own health status and susceptibility to infection and that of those in your family, household, or social bubble, you feel uncomfortable with the risk, you should not attend the fixture.

You should not attend if you have any COVID-19 symptoms:

- Temperature of 37.8 degrees or above
- New continuous cough
- Loss of sense of taste/smell
- Any other COVID-19 symptoms officially recognised

Thank you for helping us keep Edgbaston safe for all spectators, staff, players and officials and we hope you enjoy your day with us.
